LIVE UNITED

At United Way of the Bluegrass (UWBG), we know great things can happen when our community works together toward a common goal. We LIVE UNITED against poverty, and other social issues facing our schools, neighborhoods and communities by tackling the most pressing issues facing our region today. We address basic needs, injustices, lack of resources and other barriers to help more Central Kentuckians succeed and thrive. We invest in local programs and organizations that support quality childcare, family support, early intervention, school readiness and student success for all youth. We focus on economic empowerment, so more families have the resources and support to help meet their basic needs, weather emergencies and invest in a brighter future. Through our fundraising, advocacy and programmatic work, we are building a better, stronger Bluegrass where all are welcome.
